Staff Awards Committee, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, National Research Council, 1991-1994; chair 1994.

Teaching Experience

Clark University: Teaching assistant, various courses, 1966-70

Elmira College: Instructor of Psychology, 1971-75; Assistant Professor of Psychology, 1975-78.

Usual teaching duties included:

Social Psychology

Experimental Psychology--emphasized handling research design problems, with some instruction in inferential statistics

Research Problems in Social Psychology

Environmental Psychology

Theories of Personality

Evaluating Social Science Research--a course in skills necessary for critically reviewing empirical literature on a question framed by the student. Text is a 1979 publication of Oxford University Press.

Other teaching duties included:

Behavior, Attitudes, and the Natural Environment

Advanced Experimental Psychology

Introductory; Advanced General Psychology

Theories of Counseling; Psychotherapy: Theories and Perspectives

Child and Adolescent

Contemporary Problems

Senior Seminar.
