Healthy Start

- Established in 1991 as a Presidential Initiative
- Targets communities with high infant mortality rates and adverse perinatal outcomes
- Addresses needs of high-needs women and their families before, during and after pregnancy
- Emphasis on evidence-based practices, standardized approaches, and quality improvement.

Healthy Start Strategies

- Training in mental health and substance use, maternal depression, trauma-informed services
- Inventory of evidenced-based practices in depression, substance use, and intimate partner violence prevention
- Program benchmark for perinatal depression screening using an evidence-based tool
- Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder training to develop skills to engage in effective prevention and early identification activities with pregnant women, mothers and newborns
- Inventory of core competencies for Healthy Start Workers

Maternal, Infant, and Early Childhood Home Visiting Program (MIECHV)

- Voluntary, evidence-based home visiting services during pregnancy and to parents with young children
- Home visits by nurses, social workers, early childhood educators prevent child abuse and neglect, encourage positive parenting, promote child development
- Train home visitors to provide high-quality services, supports and referrals that address behavioral health risks

• Support home visiting workforce to promote positive relational health

- Guidelines for care for health supervision of infants, children and adolescents
- Prevention-based, family-focused, and developmentally-oriented
- Health promotion themes (promoting family support, child development, mental health, healthy weight)
- Health supervision visits – consensus guidelines for screening and preventive services
- Anticipatory guidance addressing health risks and developmental issues

Adolescent Health

- Efforts to develop capacity depend on a well-trained workforce that is competent to address behavioral health
- Initiatives that assure access to & delivery of quality, preventive services for adolescents & young adults in multiple settings - behavioral health is a prominent feature
 - Adolescent & Young Adult Health National Resource Center – supports a CoIIN for State MCH programs & their partners, including primary care clinicians
 - Collaborative Improvement & Innovation Network (CoIIN) on School-based Health Services – school-based health centers & comprehensive school mental health systems

IN TRAINEES' WORDS

As a graduate student at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health, I had the privilege of completing a practicum at the Maternal and Child Health Bureau's Division of MCH Workforce Development. My time at the Maternal and Child Health Bureau was invaluable and allowed me to grow and develop as a public health professional. I took a leadership role in a trainee.... Read More
