

OPPORTUNITIES TO PROMOTE CHILDREN'S BEHAVIORAL HEALTH: HEALTH CARE REFORM AND BEYOND

April 1—2, 2015

The National Academies Keck Center
500 Fifth Street, NW
Room 100
Washington, DC 20001

The Affordable Care Act has stimulated attention to health promotion, prevention, and access to evidence-based care. These principles could not be more important than during childhood, when the foundation is laid for lifelong health and wellbeing. This workshop will explore how healthcare reform, broadly considered, can provide opportunities and support innovations to promote children's behavioral health and sustain them over time. Funding streams, intermediary organizations, and innovative programs and services will be considered. The workshop format is designed to stimulate discussion among experts, forum members and the workshop audience, and to enhance the likelihood of collaborations going forward.
