

Walking the Talk: Climate Science in Service to Resilient Federal Properties

January 31, 2013

National Academy of Sciences Building
2101 Constitution Avenue, NW
Washington, D.C.

Registration & Refreshments (8:00 – 8:30)

Welcome & Introductions (8:30 – 8:45)

Kim Toufectis, Master Planning Program Manager, NASA HQ, Technical Capabilities & Real Property Management Division

Presenting Climate Science (8:45 – 9:35)

Results from a multi-year, iterative process

Cynthia Rosenzweig, Ph.D., Leader of the Climate Impacts Research Group at NASA's Goddard Institute for Space Studies and Co-Chair New York City Panel on Climate Change

Communicating Climate Science (9:35 – 10:00)

Lessons learned and best practices for presentations and climate handout

Kimberly Gotwals, Senior Policy Analyst, NASA HQ Contractor, Science Applications International Corporation

Break (10:00 – 10:30)

Sharing NASA's Climate Risks Workshop Process (10:30 – 11:10)

How to and lessons learned

Christina Hudson, Strategic Risk Management & Sustainability, NASA HQ Contractor, Science Applications International Corporation

Making It Your Own: Remarks on Applying & Implementing (11:10 – 11:30)

Sam Higuchi, J.D., Staff Engineer, NASA HQ, Environmental Management Division

Questions & Answers (11:30 – 11:40)

Orientation and Adaptation Topic Selection for Afternoon (11:40 – 12:00)

Kim Toufectis

LUNCH (12:00 – 1:15)

Applying the Process: Breakout Sessions (1:15 – 2:45)

Topics: those selected in Orientation session before lunch

Facilitators:

- Kim Toufectis
- Christina Hudson
- Kimberly Gotwals
- Erik Tucker, Project Manager, NASA HQ Contractor, Science Applications International Corporation

Break (2:45 – 3:00)

Breakout Session Feedback & Discussion (3:00 – 3:45)

Closing Remarks (3:45 – 4:00)

Kim Toufectis and Cynthia Rosenzweig

Adjourn (4:00)

