ASM Women in Microbiology

What's New

April 14, 2010 - CSWM Communicator Spring 2010

The CSWM has published the spring edition of their newsletter, The CSWM Communicator. It features an article by Dr. Isha Ray, who spoke at the CSWM's 2009 special interest session, "Global Clean Water: The World Cup."

Committee

Committee on the Status of Women in Microbiology (CSWM)

This committee periodically collects data on the training and employment of women microbiologists; studies legislation affecting women microbiologists; interacts and cooperates with similar committees in other scientific organizations; encourages women microbiologists to participate in ASM activities; and advises ASM on matters concerning the status of women microbiologists.
