

The American Association for the Advancement of Science and
The National Academies Committee on Science, Technology, and Law
Present

Microbial Forensics:
Nexus between Science, Public Health and Law Enforcement

January 24, 2008

9:00am – 12:30am

Lecture Room
National Academies Building
2100 Constitution Ave, NW
Washington, DC

RSVP to kberger@aaas.org by January 16, 2008

Agenda

- 9:00am History of Microbial Forensics
Randall Murch, Ph.D., Virginia Tech University
- 9:15am State of Microbial Forensics
Paul Keim, Ph.D., Northern Arizona University
Stephen Morse, M.D., Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Bruce Budowle, Ph.D., Federal Bureau of Investigation
Jim Burans, Department of Homeland Security
- 11:30 am Policy Discussion
Seth Carus, Ph.D., National Defense University
Stephen Morse, M.D., Centers for Disease Control and Prevention
Charles Cooke, Ph.D., National Counterproliferation Center
Judge George Clark, San Diego County Circuit Court