

ROBERT HORTON

Robert Horton started at the IMLS in November, 2011, and is responsible for the management of the discretionary grant programs in the Office of Library Services. Prior to coming to the IMLS, he was state archivist and director of the library, publications and collections division at the Minnesota Historical Society. He studied and taught history at Brown, Ohio State, Indiana University and Yale, then started his archival career at the State Archives of Indiana.