REPORT ON INDIANS TAXED AND NOT TAXED.

INDIANS WHO ARE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.

The citizen Indians are scattered over 44 states and 5 territories, as shown by the tables in this introduction, and are employed in various pursuits.

As a rule the modern Mississippi valley, western, and Pacific coast Indians can be easily accounted for. The settlement of those regions by whites in large numbers is recent, and a fairly good record of the whereabouts of the several tribes of Indians known has been kept.

The Six Nations of New York and The Five Civilized Tribes of Indian territory are not citizens of the United States.

CIVILIZED INDIANS OFF RESERVATIONS, TAXED, AT CENSUSES OF 1890, 1880, 1870, AND 1860.
