Reporting

• Four brief quarterly reports, due each year on January 15, April 15, July 15, and October 15

2-year home residency requirement

USAID-Sponsored J-1 Visa Application Process and Conditions of Sponsorship
J-1 Visa Conditions of Sponsorship

2-Year Home Residency Requirement:

1. Two-year Home Residency Requirement: I understand that I must depart the U.S. within three calendar days (seven calendar days for long-term programs) after the last technical or practical U.S.-based activity of my program, unless circumstances preclude departure and the USAID Responsible Officer or Alternate Responsible Officer approves the exception in writing. I understand that I must return to my home country immediately upon departure from the U.S. I understand that I must fulfill the two-year home residency requirement of the J-1 Visa, unless USAID has approved an exception to the Agency’s J-1 visa requirement (see 2. below). [The two year home residency requirement does not preclude me from traveling to the U.S. during such period under another non-immigrant visa such as B-1/B-2 if the travel is approved by a U.S. Consul. Instead it means that I will not be eligible for certain types of non-immigrant visas (e.g., H-1 or L-1) or for legal permanent residence in the U.S. until I have spent a total of 24 months in my home country]. I will not attempt to change my non-immigrant status while in the U.S. I understand that marriage to a U.S. citizen, the birth of a U.S. citizen child, an offer of employment, change of sponsorship, passage of years, or time spent in another country, will not change my responsibility to return home upon completion of this USAID program.

Translation: traveler may continue traveling to the U.S. under non-immigrant visas (B-1, J-1, F-1), but cannot apply for a "green card" (a Permanent Resident Card), or come to the U.S. on a work visa (H-1 or L-1) until after they have met the two-year home residency requirement.

Reason: USAID wants exchange program investment to pay off.
